FROZEN FRUIT

General Characteristics

frozen fruit is one that has been subjected to low temperatures to improve its preservation properties. For this, before the freezing process, it is necessary that the fruit be selected based on: maturation, size, food safety and cleanliness, etc. Depending on the case, it can also be subjected to peeling and pitting, etc. The frozen fruit is a natural product obtained from fruits from our Colombian fields selected of the best quality.

Benefits: It keeps all its nutrients intact, maximum freshness, does not need preservatives, comes clean, cut and peeled, ready to eat.

Observations: it has a good price, there is no waste management (shells, seeds).

We offer a wide range of 100% natural fruits, such as Strawberry, Pineapple, Kiwi, Mango, Passion Fruit, Blackberry, Blueberries, Red Fruits... Among many others.

They do not contain allergens
